EDMONTON, ALBERTA

JANUARY 22, 1976

WE LOSE AGAIN

Last year one of the banners hanging in the Humanities Centre was stolen. Rumor had it that it was being duplicated and copies were being sold. Last week, three more of the banners disappeared.

The Humanities Centre was officially opened in September of 1973. Budget restrictions forced some changes in the proposed architectural plans; yet, when completed, the building's design created an appropriate surrounding for studies in the humanities. Space and curves insisted on imagination. But it was the banners which put the "finishing touches" on the atmosphere. Created by Takao Tanabe, a west coast artist, their grace, color, and form changed with the light and air.

The banner stolen last year was replaced by the artist. The three just removed are probably irreplaceable. Since they were not covered by insurance, the University will suffer a financial loss. But the greater loss will be to the people, there now or in the future, facing, if the thefts continue, another grey University building.

VISITING PROFESSOR SCHEME

With a view to developing an adequate foundation for education, training, research, and development in the Sciences, the Applied Sciences, and technology, India has created a number of research laboratories, organizations, and institutions, and has established centres of advanced studies. These developments obviously need highly qualified men and women in various fields of knowledge. In spite of the fact that a large manpower resource has been developed in India during the last twenty years, considerable difficulty has been experienced in finding men and women with adequate education, training, and experience for senior positions in the fields of Humanities, Physical Sciences, Life Sciences, Social Sciences, Engineering and Technology, Agriculture, and Medicine.

To deal with this problem, the Visiting Professor Scheme was developed by the government of Tamil Nadu. The two main components of the scheme are:

1. Inviting Indian scholars and specialists currently working abroad to spend their sabbatical at institutions and research centres in Tamil Nadu as visiting faculty members.

2. Inviting eminent scientists and specialists from abroad for short periods to serve as consultants for planning new laboratories, organizing departments, and promoting research.

It is hoped that the scheme would appeal to those Indian scientists and specialists abroad who plan to visit India on a sabbatical and spend a period of six months to one year in India. The scheme may also be of interest to candidates who may desire short assignments as a preliminary to seeking regular positions in India.

Under Scheme (2), the offer is to be made to chosen foreign specialists through the appropriate channel on the basis of recommendations from individual institutions in Tamil Nadu that need such specialists.

The minimum period for Scheme (1) is six months, and the maximum one year. The term can be extended by another year in special cases where such a need is really established.

The candidates under this scheme will be taken either as visiting assistant professor or visiting professor based on their academic qualification, research experience, and professional standing. They will be paid an honorarium which will be comparable to the pay scales of Assistant Professor and Professor in institutions of higher learning in India.

The offer is for a specified period only and does not include any regular appointment.

Candidates for consideration under this scheme should possess a doctorate degree or equivalent level of specialization, publications of merit, experience of graduate teaching, and experience of guiding research at doctorate level. Field experience in the major area of specialization is highly desirable.

The responsibilities of the visiting professors would include a combination of the following: formulation of new courses, development of new laboratory facilities, promotion of research and consultancy, review of current teaching and evaluation practices, and actual teaching for post-graduate students.

The emphasis is on planned and systematic experimentation in the teaching, learning, and evaluation phases, modernization of curriculum content, and promotion of relevant research and extension activities.

For a broad outline of the terms and conditions of the scheme, contact the Research Grants and Contracts Office at 432-5360. More specific information will be sent upon receipt of the candidate's résumé.

The résumé received from candidates will not be treated as application for a position, but as a communication of interest for participation in the scheme. The résumé may be sent to The Secretary to the Government, Education Department, Fort St. George, Madras 600 009, Tamil Nadu, India. In general, the information provided has to include biographical data, the time and duration of the assignment contemplated, and any other information that the scholar might consider relevant.

All full-time and part-time members of the academic staff, the non-academic staff, the graduate and undergraduate students of the University are eligible for election to these committees and membership is not restricted to members of the General Faculties Council.

St. Joseph's College celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of its inception this year. On March 18, 1926 the provincial government passed legislation incorporating the College. With the aid of a grant from the Carnegie Foundation and equivalent funds raised within the province, construction of the building began the same year. Officially opened November 6, 1927, St. Joseph's was the only denominational college on campus offering degree programs, not in Theology, but in non-sectarian Arts courses.

The terms of office for staff members are for periods up to three years commencing July 1, 1976. The terms of office for student members are for one year commencing May 1, 1976. Members who wish to serve a subsequent term of office may be nominated for re-election.

The Nominating Committee will be pleased to hear from staff members and students who have suggestions for nominations or who would be interested in serving on the standing committees of General Faculties Council. Interested persons should contact the Secretary of the Nominating Committee, Lilian Plaskitt, 1-15 University Hall, telephone 432-4715.

NOTICES

UNIVERSITY OPEN LECTURES

In 1975, Departments were invited to consider offering short series of three or four evening lectures, open to the public and free of charge. These lectures were advertised by the Faculty of Extension in the press and through the other media, under the general title "University Open Lectures." Notice of the lectures was also circulated to all high schools in the Edmonton area.

If Departments or Schools of the University of Alberta wish to participate in such a program during March, 1976, they should submit proposals to H.W. Roberts, Faculty of Extension, by February 6.

PUBLIC MEETING ON EDUCATION

The Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower's Advisory Committee on Student Affairs invites students and institutional representatives to a public meeting to be held Saturday, February 7 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in 104 Students' Union Building. The purpose of the meeting is to obtain information regarding three areas of importance to students: counselling, financing, and housing.

Those wishing to attend the meeting are asked to bring a factual, written version of their ideas and concerns. If you are unable to attend the meeting, the Advisory Committee asks that you forward your submission before March 15 to A.G. Scott, Chairman, Minister's Advisory Committee on Student Affairs, c/o Glenrose Hospital, 10230 111 Avenue, Edmonton T5G 0B7.

AUDITIONS FOR THEATRE 3

Theatre 3 requires two males to take roles in the upcoming production of The Broken Globe. The play is adapted by Frank Moher from a story by Henry Kreisel, and will run from February 24 to 28.

One role requires a boy between the ages of thirteen and sixteen; the youth must be mature and physically suited to the character of a thirteen-year-old farmboy. He must also have stage experience. For the older role, it is necessary that the actor play fiddle. The boy's role is a speaking part while the fiddler's is not.

Rehearsals begin on February 7, and the parts will require a full-time three week commitments. Salaries will be paid to both actors. Interviews can be arranged by phoning Theatre 3 at 426-6870.

YOGA FITNESS CENTRE

The University Yoga Fitness Centre will organize a Hatha Yoga course emphasizing mental relaxation, figure, and physical fitness. Classes will be held at the University on a once-a-week basis. The eight-week course begins on January 28. Preference in registration will be given to students. For more information, phone H. Dhanaraj at 439-7897 evenings or Judith Spencer at 433-4004 evenings.

DATA ENTRY SERVICE

Do you have a text book or manual that needs periodic updating, or a thesis to produce? Computing Services offers a data entry service for students and staff of the University. This service includes entering, formatting, and editing the manuscript on the computer.

For a text that requires changes and reorganization, considerable savings can be realized by having it entered on a computer. Once a manuscript is entered, copy and format changes can be made quickly and easily. This saves constant retyping of the manuscript.

APPOINTMENTS

Roberta E. McKown has been appointed Chairman of the Department of Political Science effective immediately. Dr. McKown, who holds BA, MA, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Oregon, has been acting Chairman of the department since the beginning of the 1975-76 academic term. She is a specialist in the politics of emerging nations, and her teaching fields include revolution and social change, international politics, politics of Sub-Saharan Africa, comparative politics, and comparative theory and analysis.

Margaret Midgley has been appointed Special Assistant to the President and Secretary to General Faculties Council effective December 1, 1975. Ms. Midgley joined the academic staff of the University of Alberta in 1970. She holds a BA from this university, an LLB from Queen's University, and expects to graduate with a Master of Laws degree from the University of Alberta in the spring of this year. (No photo available)

The data entry service operates on a first-come, first-serve basis at a rate of $5.20 per hour. Rush jobs will be accepted at a rate of $6 per hour. Turnaround (completion time) for small jobs is generally one to two days; it is, however, advisable to have long jobs submitted well before your deadline.

For more information on the data entry service, please phone Ella Ritz at 432-5442 or drop in to 357 General Services Building.

SYMPOSIUM ON INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY

The National Research Council of Canada will hold the second Canadian symposium on instructional technology June 21, 22, and 23 at the University of Laval in Quebec. The theme will be the technology in the individualization of instruction. Registration forms will be available in March and April.

It is expected that there will be representation from most of the Canadian centres which have work underway related to the Symposium theme. Authors wishing to submit papers are advised that they should send an abstract (about 200 words) to the Conference Coordinator before January 30. Authors will be notified of acceptance by February 20; completed papers are due by May 14. The final draft will be published in the Symposium Proceedings and should be in a form suitable for reproduction. (An instruction sheet will be provided with the notice of acceptance.) Direct all correspondence to C.D. Doucet, Secretary, Associate Committee on Instructional Technology, National Research Council of Canada, Ottawa, Ontario K1A 0R6.

PRINTING SERVICES

Printing Services asks that all printing and duplicating requirements be submitted as far in advance of the fiscal year-end as possible.

This will assist them in giving more and better service by reducing overtime and related higher user charges.

PUBLIC MEETING

The National and Provincial Parks Association will discuss "What Future for Elk Island National Park?" at the next public meeting to be held Tuesday, January 27, at 8 p.m. in the Provincial Museum Auditorium. Speakers are Dick Roberts, Park Planner, and Jack Schick, Chief Naturalist of Elk Island Park. Slides and maps included. Everyone welcome.

MAINTENANCE MANAGEMENT

Paul Juul, PEng, will conduct a Maintenance Management seminar for the Faculty of Extension February 10 through 12. The purpose of the seminar is to give participants new perspectives on how to solve common maintenance management problems and should provide the stimulus to adopt new approaches to maintenance management in all kinds of organizations. The seminar is directed towards individuals who have responsibility for the maintenance of various kinds of physical facilities, both buildings and equipment.

The registration fee is $175 which includes lunch each day, dinner on February 11, and course materials. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. For additional information or brochures, call 432-3037.

COMMERCIAL USE OF TRADEMARKS, DESIGNS, AND CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Ways to use and protect business assets such as names, marks, designs, and marketing systems will be discussed in a Faculty of Extension seminar February 9. Peter Lown, Barrister and Solicitor and Associate Professor of Law, will be examining such questions as what use can be made of these assets by persons or firms other than the owner; and how far can use be made of them without infringing on the rights of the owner.

All these areas to be considered have been the subject of recent review and recommendations for change which may have important effects on day-to-day commercial life. One important area is confidential information where recent trends in judicial decisions make it mandatory for businesses to consider the ties they maintain with existing employees, and the extent to which advantage can be gained by hiring employees from other firms.

The seminar will be held from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Monday, February 9. The registration fee is $45 including luncheon and materials. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. Additional information may be secured by calling 432-5067 or 432-5066.

ELECTRICAL POWER SYSTEMS: DESIGNING AND INSTALLING FOR PRACTICAL MAINTENANCE

A two-day seminar on Electrical Power Systems will be held February 5 and 6 by the Faculty of Extension. The objectives of this seminar are to familiarize participants with design techniques which will result in good electrical maintenance and operation. The seminar will be of benefit to design engineers, electrical technicians, electrical contractors, and estimators, as well as industrial plant supervisors who make decisions on expansion or modifications to electrical systems.

The seminar content will be of a practical, technical nature and it is assumed that the participants will have a general working knowledge in electrical design or construction. Topics to be discussed include Lighting Systems, Cable and Distribution Systems, W. Ross Cheriton; Power Transformers and Motors, R. Wayne Rogers; Switchgear and Main Supply Systems, Hans R.A. Garritsen; and Electrical Protection and Electrical Safety Systems, Control and Monitor Systems. George Browne.

Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $90 which includes lunches, materials, and parking. Additional information or brochures may be obtained by calling 432-3037.

ENGINEERING FOR BIOLOGISTS

The Faculty of Extension has scheduled a ten-week evening course on Engineering for Biologists to begin February 3. The course has been designed for biologists and biological technicians working in both government departments and business firms who wish to improve their understanding of the problems faced by engineers. It will deal with the application of engineering science in a number of specific public works and industrial applications emphasizing both the technical and economic constraints which presently govern many of the projects and operations which form the infra-structure of our way of life.

Among the lectures to be given by various University of Alberta faculty members and industrial personnel are Geotechnical Basics with Emphasis on Site Selection, Foundation Design, and Slope Stability; Effect of Engineering Structures and the Exploration and Mining; Water and Conventional Thermal Power Production; and Nuclear and Other Non-Conventional Methods of Power Production.

Brochures outlining the topics to be presented and the lecturers are available by calling 432-3037. The registration fee is $40. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall.

MANAGING PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL PERSONNEL

Managing Professional and Technical Personnel, a three-day seminar for managers or supervisors who direct the work of engineers, programmers, systems analysts, or other professional personnel, will be held February 18 through 20 by the Faculty of Extension. The seminar will assist the supervisor or manager to establish department responsibilities, objectives, and action plans which will enable him to evaluate the effectiveness of his performance and that of his subordinates. The seminar will be especially helpful to individuals who are making the transition from a technical job to a managerial position.

Donald S. Michels, a management consultant specializing in the design and implementation of management systems and organization growth, will conduct the seminar. Prior to his consulting activities, he was the General Manager of Manpower Development for Control Data Corporation where he was responsible for corporate-wide management and organization development efforts.

The registration fee is $160 including luncheons on February 18 and 19 and all materials. No cancellations will be accepted after February 13, but substitutions may be made. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. Additional information or brochures may be obtained by calling 432-5066 or 432-5067.

HIGHLIGHTS OF FRENCH CANADIAN LITERATURE

The Faculty of Extension has scheduled this course to begin January 29. It has been designed to present authors, interesting ideas, and themes found in French Canadian literature from the beginning of this century to the present. It will also explore fascinating aspects of writing such as sources of inspiration, symbolism, and intent. The emphasis will be mainly on novels, although some plays and poetry will be included.

A few slides will be shown during the lectures and there will be a question and discussion period. There will be no compulsory reading, but English translations and French originals will be available for those who will wish to read the texts discussed. The lectures will be in English. The course is open to anyone who enjoys books and probing ideas.

Mme. A.S. Martin will be the instructor. Classes are scheduled from 7:15 p.m. to 8:45 p.m. for eight Thursdays beginning January 29 in the Southgate Public Library. The registration fee is $25. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. Additional information may be obtained by calling 432-3034.

SURVEY OF CURRENT EDUCATIONAL TRENDS

What is happening within the educational system these days? And of what significance are these trends to the Christian community? Over an eight week period beginning Wednesday, February 4, this course will provide an opportunity to meet with resource people involved in a variety of educational settings and to examine four of the current and influential books in the field. The program will include lectures, discussion, directed reading, and films.

The fee is $15. Further information on the course outline and a confirmation of meeting times can be obtained by calling 439-7311, St. Stephen's College.

CREATING STRUCTURES TO SERVE OUR GOALS

St. Stephen's College will repeat this course which was originally held in October. It deals with motivation of people in volunteer organizations, helping chairpersons avoid "getting stuck" with a job, evaluations to build better boards and committees, application of "Management by Objectives" in churches, and organizational behavior in the church. The course will be conducted on Tuesdays, February 3 to 24 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The cost is $12. Registration forms can be obtained from St. Stephen's College or by calling 439-7311.

SKILLS IN PROGRAM DESIGN

How does one design an effective learning experience for a group of people? Here is an opportunity for persons with some basic leadership training and experience to increase their skills in the area of program design. This course will include theory sessions, experience in program design, and the opportunity to develop individual and team leadership styles. The projected dates of the program are January 26 to March 8. The course is limited to twenty persons. Further information regarding actual times and dates may be obtained by calling St. Stephen's College at 439-7311. The course fee is $30.

ACUPUNCTURE, CHINESE MEDICINE, AND TAOIST PHILOSOPHY

This seminar will focus on the principles of acupuncture, including discussions of Chinese physiology, the law of the five elements, traditional diagnosis (including pulses, colors, sounds, and smells), preventive medicine, as well as open discussion concerning the integration of Eastern ideas into Western life styles. The instructor will be Harold Bailen. Dr. Bailen, now in private practice in San Francisco, is a former Director, Preventive Cardiology and Cardiac Rehabilitation, San Francisco State University. He studied extensively at the College of Chinese Acupuncture in England and is a member of the Traditional Acupuncture Foundation.

The seminar will take place February 20 and 21 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The fee is $50. Further information and application forms should be requested from the Faculty of Extension in Corbett Hall, telephone 432-5055.

COURSES RESCHEDULED

The following Faculty of Extension courses have been rescheduled. Registration for all three courses will be accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. Additional information is available by calling 432-5069.

SPEAKING IN SOCIAL GROUPS

This course has been designed for individuals who have difficulty expressing opinions in such group settings as staff meetings, classrooms, or social gatherings. It will provide a context for practising skills for increasing comfort and confidence in group situations. The emphasis will be on informal, spontaneous speaking rather than formal speech delivery. The course will be held for six Tuesdays beginning January 20. The fee is $30 and the class limit is 15 students.

MAKING CONTACT

This six-session course is directed toward individuals who are feeling unfulfilled in terms of meaningful relationships, friendships, and a

WE'RE LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEERS

Understanding volunteers. Volunteers who are open-minded, who are prepared to put their time to work in a different, but not so different, environment.

We're looking for volunteers for the Alberta Hospital, Edmonton. A 'mental hospital': one wholly concerned with work in the field of mental health.

We need volunteers to work in a variety of hospital programs, with a variety of people. As a volunteer, you could become part of an essential effort to help people who need a special kind of help. You may have had similar experience in the past — or you may be a student of the social or helping sciences now. But experience is not necessary, as you will be given a full orientation.

Please call Dianne Moir, volunteer co-ordinator at Alberta Hospital, Edmonton, for more information. Her number is 973-3361, ext. 257.

Transportation is arranged for volunteers at the hospital, which is just outside Edmonton's northeastern city limit.

sense of belonging. It will assist them in discussing and exploring effective ways to reach out to formulate and consolidate new friendships. The fee for this course is $20.

AN OVERVIEW OF PSYCHOLOGY THROUGH FILM

For those who are interested in learning about the field of Psychology, this course will provide a broad overview. Recent films will be shown followed by discussion. Films will show stages of growth, development, and learning from infancy throughout life, as well as psychological approaches to the problems of alcoholism, mental illness, and heart attacks. This course will be held for ten Tuesdays beginning January 27. The fee is $20. A pamphlet containing detailed information on the films is available by calling 432-5069.
